We would like to invite you to participate as an exhibitor at the 2019 Johns Hopkins Research Symposium on Engineering in Healthcare!

Throughout the event, your organization will have the opportunity to connect directly with institutional leaders, researchers, clinicians, and students working at the cutting-edge of artificial intelligence in healthcare. We invite you to use this exciting venue to raise awareness about your programs, products, and services.

Table pricing: $500

Please secure your table registration by NOVEMBER 11 here: https://forms.gle/eDn46jjp2oYgkzb8

WHAT YOU WILL RECEIVE

- Contact with 200+ attendees interested in engineering, artificial intelligence, and healthcare
- One 5’ skirted table, with 2 chairs and access to electricity (please include any specific requests when registering)
- Symposium registration for two representatives (includes a full continental breakfast, lunch, and networking reception)
